

The Park City School District does not offer Driver Education. Students need to complete both the classroom theory and driving and observation portions through a provider who is approved by the Utah Driver License Division. For info, see <http://dld.utah.gov/licensingid-cards/driver-education/>.

Some popular provider options are listed below. These programs are not necessarily endorsed by the Park City School District. Contact the provider directly for complete information.

NOTE: You must get a Learner Permit BEFORE you begin Driver Education.

You must be at least 15 years old to get your permit. For information on obtaining a Learner Permit, go to <http://dld.utah.gov/licensingid-cards/learner-permit/>.

Online/Home Study Driver Education Providers

The Utah Driver License Division website includes a list of approved Driver Education providers. Go to <http://dld.utah.gov/licensingid-cards/driver-education/> and click on each provider's website to see which program would work best for you. Some other online options are:

Canyons Virtual High School (CVHS) - <http://cvhs.canyonsdistrict.org/>

Weber Online - <http://weberonline.wsd.net/index.php/grades-9-12-how-to-enroll/driver-ed>

Utah Students Connect (<http://www.utahstudentsconnect.org>)

Utah Students Connect (USC) offers the classroom portion of Driver Education online, but NOT the driving portion. The student must be enrolled at TMJH or PCHS. This course is free during the school year, but will cost $46.50 if taken during the summer. USC courses have fixed term dates!—A sign-up deadline, start date, withdrawal deadline, and an end date when all course work and final exams must be complete. You must actively participate or you will be automatically dropped at mid-term. Students will receive a letter grade for this course, which will be added to the student's high school transcript (and will affect GPA). If completed successfully, the student will be awarded .25 elective credit. If you pass, the course instructor will report your certificate to the DMV. You must have a Learner Permit before you can begin the course. Register for USC Driver Education through your school's Counseling Office.

NUES On-line Driver's Education Program (<http://nucenter.org/DriversEd.html>)

The Northern Utah Education Service Center (NUES) is offering an On-line Driver's Education Program for students enrolled in the Park City School District. The course fee is $33 (non-refundable, amount is subject to change), and must be completed within 90 days of receiving a login. This course provides the classroom portion, but NOT the driving portion. Students must have their learner's permit before beginning the program. To register and pay for the course, go to <http://www.nucenter.org/DriversEd.html>.
